

Perfect. The more we discuss it, the more I think this should not be presented as a "BJJ Netflix" project.

The vision should be:

1 The operating system for the BJJ community.

Think:

1 Strava
2 +
3 Smoothcomp
4 +
5 BJJ Fanatics
6 +
7 Airbnb Events
8 +
9 LinkedIn

but specialized for BJJ.

BJJ Platform Roadmap

448
449 # Technical Roadmap
450
451 ## Learn AZ-305
452
453 Phase 1-3
454
455 - APIM
456 - AKS

- 457 - Azure SQL
- 458 - AI Search
- 459 - Azure OpenAI

460

461 ## Learn Event-Driven Architecture

462

463 Phase 2-6

464

- 465 - Event Grid
- 466 - Service Bus
- 467 - Azure Functions

468

469 ## Learn Networking

470

471 Phase 6-12

472

- 473 - Application Gateway
- 474 - WAF
- 475 - Private Endpoints
- 476 - Hub & Spoke

477

478 ## Learn SaaS Architecture

479

480 Phase 7-12

481

- 482 - Multi-Tenant Design
- 483 - Identity
- 484 - RBAC
- 485 - Subscription Management

486

487 ---

488

489 # First Revenue Goal

490

491 OpenMat Booking

492

493 Commission:

494

495 1€ per registration

496

497 Example:
498
499 1000 registrations/month
500
501 = 1000€/month
502
503 without subscriptions.
504
505 ---
506
507 # Ultimate Goal
508
509 The global platform where athletes:
510
511 - Train
512 - Compete
513 - Learn
514 - Share videos
515 - Discover gyms
516 - Join seminars
517
518 while gyms and coaches monetize their expertise.

My recommendation as an Azure Cloud Engineer is to stop at Phase 4 initially:

1. Foundation
2. Match Vault
3. AI Fight Journal
4. OpenMat Finder

You would already learn:

- APIM
- AKS
- Azure SQL
- Blob Storage
- Functions
- Event Grid
- OpenAI
- AI Search
- GitHub Actions
- Bicep

which covers a huge part of the hands-on architecture topics you'll encounter while studying for AZ-305 and later AZ-700. Beyond that, the marketplace and SaaS features become actual business ventures rather than just learning projects.
